

COHEAO

Coalition of Higher Education Assistance Organization

June Financial Wellness Newsletter

YOUR MONTHLY NEWS & UPDATES

Financial Literacy Day on Capitol Hill moves to June

Popular Event will Spotlight Financial Education in Schools

The 17th annual Financial Literacy Day on Capitol Hill (Hill Day, #FLHD19) is set for Wednesday, June 26, from noon to 3 p.m. in rooms 2043-2045 of the Rayburn House Office Building. Organized by the Jump$tart Coalition on behalf of its partners, with U.S. Reps. Joyce Beatty (D-OH-3) and Steve Stivers (R-OH-15) serving as honorary co-hosts, the event is free and open to the public.

Although this event has been primarily geared towards K-12, COHEAO encourages anyone who is able to participate. During our annual conference we will also have another opportunity to discuss important matters in Financial Literacy on Capitol Hill in 2020.

Get Involved

Upcoming Events

Register Today!

Earn CEU Credit

An Education in International Payments Mitigating Risk and Ensuring Compliance Tuesday, June 18, 2019 2:00 PM EST

With an increasing number of students enrolled in higher education in the U.S. coming from abroad, colleges and universities must adapt their administrative and operational processes to cater for a global customer base, or risk alienating a significant proportion of their student body. But what exactly does this mean? In a payments sense, it means creating a payments ecosystem that is transparent, fast, secure, integrated, and simple-to-use for all students, no matter where in the world they are from.

"Money Smart Conversation: Financial Literacy Tools from FDIC" Thursday, June 20, 2019 1:00 PM EST

Teaching students about money management should be fun and engaging. This helps to ensure their knowledge and desire to learn is not based on a requirement, but based on a wanting to be money smart. Tools and resources is the most valuable components to have when teaching financial literacy. Join us as we discuss the Money Smart resource from FDIC that gives you a start to finish approach to financial literacy. The resources that will be explored are completely free to use. As we unpack this conversation with an FDIC expert you don't want to miss the insights that will be shared and how to best maximize the tools provided by Money Smart and gain industry insight into best practices when teaching financial literacy.

SAVE THE DATE

When: September 17, 2019 8:30AM - 4:00PM

What: Higher Education Compliance Workshop:
Affordability, Payment Options & Funding Trends

Where: Wellesley College - Wellesley, Massachusetts

Who Should Attend:

Staff from the areas of Student Financial Services, Bursars, Financial Aid, Financial Wellness, Risk Management, Counsel's Office & Compliance

NPR Fresh Air

On NPR's Fresh Air (interview-based radio show) yesterday, Terry Gross interviewed the co-authors of a new book – The Stressed Years of Their Lives. A very interesting interview that touched on the state of students' mental health all campuses and departments encounter: Listen Now!

Read More!

