

COHEAO

Coalition of Higher Education Assistance Organization

APRIL FINANCIAL LITERACY NEWSLETTER

Financial Literacy: It's all fun and games

Gamed Based Learning Meets Financial Literacy

The twenty-first century learner is a blend of knowledge, literacies and skills. With widespread access to the internet and light-speed technology, a proper education is no longer just the acquisition of facts. It is an experience that seeks to equip learners with the ability to think critically, solve problems creatively, and apply what they learn across real-world experiences.

READ MORE

NSCFW

NATIONAL SUMMIT ON FINANCIAL WELLNESS WEEK

Register Now

Financial Literacy in the News

State Senator Kennedy:
Students Must Learn
Financial Literacy

READ MORE

10 things the Department of Education wants you to know.

READ MORE

Top 10 Smartest States for Financial Literacy: 2015

READ MORE

Tulsa man, 24, on track for net worth of $100,000 by 25th birthday

He is a super saver who continues to practice savings habits embedded since childhood. He checks his bank statements online every couple of days. He also uses mint.com, an online site that helps people manage their money and create a budget.

Read More

Our Address

2163 Newcastle Ave Cardiff by the Sea, CA, 92007

About COHEAO

The COHEAO Financial Literacy Task Force identifies best practices, serves as a forum on existing programs and new ideas, and advocates for policies that leverage one of the most teachable moments in personal finance—the process of obtaining a student loan. If you would like to join COHEAO's Financial Literacy Task Force, please contact Todd Woodlee. If you no longer want to receive this newsletter, please reply with the word REMOVE in the subject line.