

COHEAO

Coalition of Higher Education Assistance Organization

November Financial Wellness Newsletter

YOUR MONTH NEWS & UPDATES

Friends and family come from far and near, bringing chatter and laughter we so love to hear. After all the cooking and baking is done, we gather around the table as one. We give thanks for good food, family, and friends. All too soon, Thanksgiving comes to an end. Saying our goodbyes, I wipe away a little tear but smile, as I remember, there's always next year! Happy Thanksgiving! (author unknown)

ON THE BEHALF OF COHEAO...

HAPPY THANKSGIVING FROM OUR FAMILY TO YOURS!

Upcoming Events

- Friday, November 30, 2018 - 2018 Elections & What Happened and What Lies Ahead for Higher Education with Kim Hefling, Senior Education Reporter, Politico

- Monday, January 28 - Wednesday January 30th 2019 Join us for the 2019 COHEAO Annual Conference and Financial Wellness Summit. During the summit we will have special guest from FDIC & NGPF just to name a few.

Register Here

How do you help students gain financial skills and understand student debt?

The Financial Literacy and Education Commission (FLEC), comprised of the US Departments of Education, Treasury and other federal agencies, seeks input on Best Practices for Higher Education Financial Literacy. Many higher education institutions are focusing on helping their students make more informed financial choices in order improve their likelihood of success in completing their degree, attaining a fulfilling career, and build their financial futures.

Read More

THIS WILL NEVER GET OLD

Give your loved one the gift of financial planning

This holiday season help others with three wise modus operandi: spend, save and invest wisely.

Read More